June 2014 Number 2

Susan Cucchi, Editor

PRESIDENT'S CORNER

By Kiyoshi Adachi

On April 4th I received a mailing from SCERS (Sacramento County Employees Retirement System) which contained two enclosures titled "Retired Member Statement As of March 2014" and "Annual Financial Report Summary For the Fiscal Year Ended June 30, 2013 and 2012".

The "Retired Member Statement" told me my monthly "Benefit Amount at Retirement", the "Cumulative Cost of Living Adjustments, COLA" to date and my "Total Benefit Amount as of March 2014". The report also shows the estimated monthly benefit information effective April 2014 and the current beneficiary information.

Retirees have received this most welcomed information from SCERS for the past several years and it is one of the many ways SCERS provides retirement security to all of us. In the "Annual Financial Report Summary" the message to SCERS members by Chief Executive Officer Richard Stensrud states in part, "...the pension trust is now more than $1 billion larger than it was before the market collapse." And "...continues in a strong financial position with a funded ratio of approximately 83%, one of the highest funding ratios among public employee retirement systems." Also, "The investment performance has also been strong over the long term with an annual investment return of over 8.4% over the last 27 years, comfortably above the investment return target of 7.5%" Mr. Stensrud states. There is nearly $7 billion in the pension trust.

SCERS retirees should have great confidence that their benefits are safe and protected by the Board of Retirement and the staff of SCERS. Retirees will not have to wonder "how long will my pension benefits last"?

If you have any questions or concerns SCERS can be contacted at sacretiree@saccounty.net or at 916-874-9119.

FRAUD PREVENTION

By John Whitney
Sacramento Credit Union Branch Manager

At Sacramento Credit Union, we want you to shop and spend with confidence. That's why we've come up with a list of common fraud tactics and some suggestions on how to combat them. Let's look at some of the ways you can help keep your data safe.

Criminals use many means to gain access to your identity. Two common methods are social engineering and small scale data theft. Social engineering attempts to trick you into thinking that you're giving your data to someone you can trust. You can recognize most of these scams by watching for one or both of these tactics:

- 1) The company refuses to identify itself. The only people who have an interest in hiding their identities are criminals.
- 2) The representative gives you a short time frame for decision making. Companies that want your business are more than willing to let you think about the decision. Scam artists fear giving you time to think because it will give you more time to see through the scam.

Small scale data theft is hard to detect. Unscrupulous employees may memorize or copy credit card information during a normal transaction. They then use the information to spoof a copy of your card they can use or sell. You can secure yourself against it in three steps:

- 1) When possible, don't let the card out of your sight. If you're paying at a restaurant, follow the server with your eyes from the table to the register. Many restaurants have become more aware of this security concern and have put the registers in a more visible area.
- 2) Use the "debit" function of your bank card. This number is useless without your PIN, which is much harder to fake than your signature.
- 3) Keep an eye on your card statements. Look for charges from gas stations and convenience stores that you don't recognize. These are usually first stops for thieves who are trying to establish a pattern of travel and test their ability to get away with the transactions before they make big purchases on your dime.

Other ways of preventing fraud

If you've done business online, you know that the Internet has been a windfall for scams as well. It can be difficult to sort out genuine businesses from the con artists. It can be especially difficult if you need money or are trying to run a home business. Here are three precautionary principles to help you detect and avoid scams:

- 1) Never send money via Western Union or other money transfer services to someone you don't know. These services do not provide any kind of security or refund policy on your transaction. Any legitimate business person will not have a problem taking a check, credit card, or other form of online payment.
- 2) Wherever possible, insist on United States Postal Service shipping. Sending fraudulent materials through the mail is a federal offense. The Postmaster General's office, therefore, takes the investigation of these concerns seriously. Using the USPS can help you catch fraudsters in the act and provide investigative resources should you get caught in a scam.
- 3) When in doubt, call someone. If you receive an offer that seems too good to be true, check it out. Call the company or organization the person you're dealing with represents. Call the bank that issued the check. Call the police. All legitimate business organizations despise fraud as much as you do, because it makes it harder for them to do business. They'll be happy to cooperate in investigating your situation.

We hope this information will help you to stay alert and stay protected!

BENEFITS COMMITTEE REPORT

By Kiyoshi Adachi

There has been much in the papers on pension reform of public employees pensions. According to a recent editorial, San Jose Mayor Chuck Reed's pension reform measure will not be on the ballot this year. The California Attorney General said Reed's initiative "...eliminated constitutional protections" for public employees such as "teachers, nurses and peace officers". A Sacramento Superior Court judge sided with her summary. The initiative required 807,000 signatures to qualify for this year's election. The mayor called off his campaign for this year the article said. Reed's plan would allow state and local governments to negotiate future contributions or benefits. However, it will not offset any benefits that have already been earned by either current workers or retirees. A later news article has reported Mayor Reed promising to try again, probably in 2016.

The California Legislature passed and the Governor signed a pension reform measure which is currently being bargained in Sacramento County. This law lowered pension benefits for state and local government workers hired in 2013 and later. This pension cutback is analyzed on page A3 of the April 10, 2014 Sacramento Bee. When I was an entry level engineer for the county, the County offered, in lieu of a COLA, to pay one-half of the employee's pension contribution. The County is now bargaining with the workers to restore the pension contribution formula to its original levels.

Retiree unhappiness with the low levels of reimbursement by dental carrier Principal Financial Group continues. The EBO (Employee Benefit Office) has been made aware. The County's contract with Principal Financial Group is in force for 2014.

There is nothing to report for the 2015 health program. The 2014 health program for retirees consisted of various new plan providers for both the Medicare-eligible and non-Medicare groups. Significant premium reductions were the result of some of the changes. The premium reductions were very well received. According to the EBO, about 1277 (1045 Medicare, 232 non-Medicare) retirees were required to enroll in new plans in 2014 with most experiencing premium savings. Very good job by the EBO.

On October 20, 21, and 22, 2014 our Association will host the State Association, CRCEA (California Retired County Employee Association) semi-annual conference at the Embassy Suites in Old Sacramento. CRCEA consists of 20 member counties (Alameda, Contra Costa, Fresno, Imperial, Kern, Los Angeles, Marin, Mendocino, Merced, Orange, Sacramento, San Bernardino, San Diego, San Joaquin, San Mateo, Santa Barbara, Sonoma, Stanislaus, Tulare and Ventura) formed under an act of the legislature in 1937; therefore, the 20 counties are referred to as the 1937 Act Counties.

CRCEA together with SACRS (State Association of County Retirement Systems) are both statewide organizations composed of 1937 Act counties which represents the interest of the 20 counties. CRCEA represents over 160,000 retirees and meets twice a year with the counties alternating as hosts. The purpose for CRCEA is to advocate for retiree benefits.

The SCREA conference committee is putting together a program that will be informational and topical. The entire SCREA Board will be assisting. The Old Sacramento venue will provide out of town guest opportunities to shop and sightsee.

JUNE LUNCHEON SPEAKER

By Sandy Carli

At the June 9th SCREA Luncheon at the Dante Club Mr. Richard Stensrud, CEO of SCERS (Sacramento County Employees' Retirement System) will provide an update on the current and future prospects of our retirement benefits. We recently received the Annual Financial Report which is an outstanding report on the financial health and fiduciary integrity of our retirement system. However, there are always questions in people's minds, and this would be a good time to have your questions answered. He will also address what current employees are facing in regards to being able to retire in the near future and if changes to the retirement system will have any major impact on our existing retirement benefits. Time will be allowed for questions and if you have questions of a personal nature, you may meet with Mr. Stensrud after lunch if he is able to stay.

This year, SCERS is hosting the Fall statewide CRCEA (California Retired County Employees' Association) Conference at the Embassy Suites in Sacramento on October 19-23, 2014. More information will be coming out as to the topics that will be addressed as well as the speakers. Any member is welcome to attend and even have some get-away time in Old Sacramento. There is a cost to attend and reduced room rates are also available. Comedian Jack Gallagher will provide the entertainment at the Banquet.
